4 HURT IN CRASH OF TWO CARS AT 'BLIND' CORNER

The "blind" intersection of two macadam-surfaced roads of the secondary highway system at Gardner's school house, scene of a fatal auto crash two years ago, furnished the setting for a collision this morning in which two cars figured and four persons were hurt. One of the victims is a patient in the Warner hospital and the others received treatment from Dr. Raymond Oyler, Biglerville.

The injured: Mrs. Alice Rhinehart, 44, wife of Paul R. Rhinehart, Gardner R. 2, who was driving one of the machines, two cuts on the forehead, brush burns of the legs and a cut on the right hand.

Viola Harman, 25, Gardner R. D., lacerations of the scalp, two severe cuts on the forehead, leg injuries and shock. She is a patient in the hospital here.

Two Thrown From Car
Susan Roth, 21, Biglerville star route, lacerations of the head and face, shock and slight concussion. Verna Livingston, 22, York Springs, laceration of the upper lip and contusions of the neck and chest.

The last three on the list were occupants of a car operated by Mrs. Isabelle Starry, 22, York Springs R. 2. Viola Harman and Susan Roth were thrown out of the machine when one of the doors was ripped off.

The accident is reported to have occurred about 6:10 o'clock this morning. It was reported to state motor police here and Officer R. C. Lightner is investigating.

The collision occurred at the intersection of route 334 and the road connecting Gardner's with the Carlisle-Gettysburg highway. Mrs. Starry is reported to have been driving north and Rhinehart was going west. A high bank on Mrs. Starry's right and Rhinehart's left obstructs the view of oncoming traffic until a point within 50 feet of the crossing. The Rhinehart car struck Mrs. Starry's machine and both came to a stop in a ditch in the northwest corner of the intersection near the school house.

No Signs at Crossing
The Starry car was demolished, while damage to the other machine was placed at about $175. Both had to be towed from the scene. No charges have yet been filed in the case.

The crossing, which is about a half mile from Gardner's, is not marked with through traffic stop signs.

Chair Fohl, Aspers, brought Viola Harman to the hospital here.

174 BOY SCOUTS HOLD REUNION

One hundred and seventy-four of the 200 Boy Scouts who served in the 75th anniversary veterans' camps here last summer re-united on the battlefield Sunday afternoon for a lecture tour of the battlefield and an evening meal together.

The scouts, with all officials and other guests numbered about 220 persons, met at 2:30 o'clock at the Eternal Light Peace Memorial where the story of the battle here was begun by Fred Tilberg, assistant historian at the Gettysburg National park office. The historian accompanied the boys on the field trip, making a number of lecture stops.

Rain prevented the scouts from having their evening meal at the anniversary camp site and the boys used the mess hall at the battlefield C.C.C. camp which was offered them through the courtesy of Captain Slade, camp commander, and James R. McConaghie, National park superintendent.

Ray F. Zaner, York-Adams area scout executive, and a number of scouters who were here for the anniversary accompanied the scouts on their Sunday trip.

Burgess Asks Motorists to Observe Laws

BURGESS C. A. Heiges called upon Gettysburg motorists today to observe thorough parking regulations and stop the flood of red tickets being poured daily on the desk of the burgess as police check violations.

"I am not anxious to lay fines," the burgess said this afternoon. "I wish the people would observe the regulations and save themselves the cost of the fine and save me from the embarrassment of laying and collecting those fines."

The town's chief executive called special attention to regulations against parking on the wrong side of the street, overtime parking, double parking, parking across white zone lines and along red-lined areas where parking is forbidden.

RURAL CARRIERS OF 7 COUNTIES HOLD BANQUET

With guests in attendance from six other counties, the Adams county branch of the National Rural Letter Carriers' association conducted its annual fall banquet Saturday evening at the Battlefield hotel. Eighty-three persons attended, including rural carriers, a number of visiting postmasters and most members of the staff at the Gettysburg postoffice.

W. A. Sinner, East Berlin, president of the county organization, presided as toastmaster and called upon George P. Black, assistant postmaster of Gettysburg, to deliver the address of welcome.

Speakers during the evening included: State President Milton Miller, Pen Argyl; E. Paul Dilling, Bedford, a state vice president; Mrs. Austin DeLauter, Waynesboro, state treasurer of the ladies' auxiliary of the carriers' organization; George W. Hafer, Chambersburg, a past president of the state organization; Frank Patterson, York, state treasurer, and Park Espenshade, Lancaster, editor of the state organization's publication, "The Pennsylvania Rural Carrier."

Congressman Harry L. Haines had been invited to address the meeting as a member of the house committee on post offices and post roads but he was detained at a political rally at the court house and did not arrive until after adjournment when he greeted many of the group.

Special music during the evening was provided by Marvin Young, Drums, Pa., state and national song leader for the carriers' organizations. His vocal selections were accompanied by Mrs. Espenshade.

Every group of rural carriers in the county was represented at the meeting and there were guests from these counties: Northumberland, Luzerne, Lancaster, Bedford, Franklin and York. Norman W. Storrick, Gettysburg, was in charge of arrangements for the banquet.

The next meeting of the county branch will be held next June when the annual business session will be conducted. Officers will be elected at that time. The exact date and the place for that session have not been announced.

Flowers Bloom, Geese Fly North In Tricky Autumn

For the third successive day the mercury reached into the lower eighties as the official thermometers of Dr. Henry Stewart, local weather observer, recorded 82 degrees at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The "heat wave," which began Saturday when a thunder storm brought copious showers during the afternoon, is destined to end late Tuesday when a cold snap is due from the midwest.

(By the Associated Press.)
A prolonged period of unseasonable "Indian summer" weather that has tricked flowers into blooming, caused acorns to take root and geese and ducks to fly north appeared today to have driven nature a bit cockeyed in Pennsylvania.
More balmy breezes were promised for some parts of the state today, although a cold wave sweeping in from the west, the weatherman said. (Continued on Page Two)

Erect Booths for Election; Court Fills Two Vacancies

Final preparations were being made in all sections of the county today for Tuesday's general election.

Voting booths were being erected in the 42 polling places. The polls open at 7 a. m. and close at 8 p. m.

This morning a vacancy in the Fairfield election board was filled by Judge W. C. Sheely with the appointment of Harry E. Hartzell as judge of elections to fill the post made vacant by the resignation of Earl Hartzell. The appointment was asked in a petition presented by two fairies.

A registrar's mistake was corrected this morning by another court order when Judge Sheely directed that George Bowers, Littlestown, may vote in the first ward, although the registration records show he is registered in the second ward. He is a resident of the first ward. The mixup was due to an error of a registrar, the court order indicated.

York Judge Coming Here
On Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock court will convene here and will remain in session throughout the day to handle any legal tangles that may develop at any of the polling places in the county.

Judge Harvey A. Gross, York, who handled election matters here last year, will return to Gettysburg Tuesday morning and remain here until early evening when Judge Sheely will return from Fulton county where he will conduct court during the day.

Both republicans and democrats have arranged to receive county, state and national election returns by telephone and radio at their headquarters on Baltimore and Chambersburg streets, respectively.

Walter Swisher, Cumberland township, resigned as minority inspector in that township and in response to a petition filed this morning Judge W. C. Sheely issued an order appointing Walter T. Mehrling to fill the position.

Another court order allows Francis Gebhart, who is registered as a resident of Conewago township, to vote in the second ward of McSherrytown, his real residence. He was registered in error as a resident of the adjoining township.

FATHER OF FIVE CHILDREN DIES; HIT-RUN VICTIM

State motor policemen of the Gettysburg detail continued their investigation today into the hit-and-run death of William J. Small, 41, Hanover R. 2, father of five children, whose body was found along the highway near Forest park, south of Hanover, by milkmen making early Sunday morning deliveries. The discovery was made about 6:10 o'clock, while authorities placed the time of the accident at about 1 o'clock.

The accident occurred in Parkville, Penn township, York county, about 100 feet south of the entrance to the amusement park and in front of the residence of Ammon Dubs.

Near the lifeless body was found Small's open umbrella, indicating to police that the victim probably was walking south in the rain toward his home when he was struck.

Head Hit Crub
Bruises of the right leg showed Small probably had been brushed over by the vehicle that struck him with the fatal skull injury being inflicted when his head struck concrete curbing along the Parkville sidewalk. Small's skull was crushed and Dr. L. U. Zech, York county coroner, said death was probably instantaneous. A pool of blood surrounded his head.

The body was found by E. J. Markle, Hanover R. 3, and Robert Ampsacher, Hanover, who were delivering milk for the Lonecady. The headlights of their truck disclosed the body as they drove to the east side of the highway to make a delivery. They notified Hanover borough police who called Coroner Zech and that official asked state motor policemen here to investigate.

Officers J. R. Rivetti and Glen F. Henry went to the scene. The victim was a son of the late Charles and Anna (Rickrode) Small. His wife, who before marriage was Emma Stambaugh, died last April. Surviving are five children, Charles, William, Jr., Sterling and Delores Small, at home, and Betty Small, York; three brothers and two sisters, Lewis Small, McSherrytown; John Small, New Oxford; Charles Small, Hanover; Mrs. Elias Stoner, Hanover, and Mrs. Anna Staub, who kept house for him.

Funeral services Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the W. A. Feiser funeral home, Carlisle street, Hanover. Interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Hanover.

21 Deaths in State
(By the Associated Press)
Tragedy on the highway, and in streams, fields and homes brought death to at least 21 Pennsylvanians during the first November week-end. Indian summer weather, which pushed temperatures to the 70s in some sections, contributed indirectly to the death of William May, 55, of Susquehanna. He went out on his porch to enjoy the fall, fell over a railing and died of a fractured skull.

Many persons died on highways jammed with football fans and others brought out by excellent driving weather. The fatal accidents included: New Cumberland—Mrs. Paul E. Coleman, of Camp Hill, killed by an automobile Saturday night.

Wertzville—S. J. Tharp and Mrs. Mary Forbes, 52, of Harrisburg, died in the wreckage of an automobile in which they were returning from Carlisle Springs, Cumberland county.

OFFICER SEES ACCIDENT OCCUR
Officer A. Lashinsky, of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police, was a witness to an automobile accident that occurred a half mile west of New Oxford during a heavy rain Saturday afternoon about 2:20 o'clock.

Ray D. Shultz, 44, Cashtown, was driving east and was descending a grade when his car ran off the edge of the road, swerved across the highway and struck a guard railing where it ripped out one post, loosened several others and damaged several sections of the barrier.

Shultz and a companion, W. Gordon Zinn, 25, York, owner of the car, were unhurt. Two hunting dogs riding in the rear seat of the machine were thrown out of the car, but were not hurt. Damage to the car was placed at nearly $50.

Officer Lashinsky was on patrol duty at the time.

LARGE TRUCK OVERTURNS

A large truck tractor and trailer overturned along the Emmitsburg road about six miles south of here this morning. A wrecking and tow car from Gettysburg was called to the scene to put the heavy vehicle back on its wheels and on the highway. Work was progressing early this afternoon. No one was reported injured in the accident.

Congratulations Received

While the club members and their guests dined on turkey Miss Grannis read the congratulatory letters and telegrams, including one message from Odessa, California, signed by a Mary Gettys Hall, who said she was a descendant of James Gettys, for whom this town is named.

Greetings were extended by Marion Burton, president of the Philadelphia club and Miss Betty Swope presented three vocal solos, accompanied by Miss Eva Sachs. The numbers were "In a Luxembourg Garden," "O That It Were So" and "Midsummer."

Miss Elizabeth Bosart, dean of the state teachers' college at Glassboro, New Jersey, led the group singing. Mrs. Olive Roberts Barton, of Gettysburg, spoke briefly.

After the installation ritual in which Miss McIntyre called each of the new officers before her to be charged with the duties of their respective offices and to light a candle, Miss Grannis presented to Miss Ramer a president's pin with her congratulations. Miss Ramer also accepted the club's new charter from Miss Feller in behalf of the members of the Gettysburg club.

Receive Flags

Miss McIntyre presented a gold braided American flag and a Union Jack from Elizabeth Haas, of London, member of a Soroptimist club in England.

Miss Elizabeth Woods, president of the Business and Professional women's club joined in extending greetings and congratulations to the new organization.

Each of the visiting clubs presented official greetings and a gift to the new club, the first to be organized in this region during this club year. Gifts included cash, minute and scrapbooks, paper files and other useful presents.

The principal address of the evening was delivered by Miss Martha Servis, Philadelphia, executive secretary of the American Federation of Soroptimist clubs.

Lists Fields of Service

She held that the classified service club for women fills a need not met by any other women's club and pointed to fields of service open to the new organization. She listed the "trail blazing" accomplishments of great women in the field of education, politics, national and world affairs, war and peace service and suffrage. She urged a new commandment to supplement the commandment which says "Thou shalt not bear false witness," which would direct "Go out and give good witness." She asserted the attainment of the goals of men's and women's service organizations will be attained only with cooperative effort.

With the presentation to Miss Ramer of a gavel, the introduction of the members of the banquet committee and the fixing of the next meeting date at 7:30 o'clock on November 15 at the James Gettys hotel, the meeting adjourned. Miss Grannis will be here for the next session.

BROTHER WILL VISIT EDWARD

London, Nov. 7 (AP).—The possibility of a reconciliation between the Duke and Duchess of Windsor and the British royal family was seen today in the assertion in well informed circles that the duke and duchess of Gloucester probably would see the Windsors at Paris, Friday.

The former King Edward VIII and his American-born wife are staying at a Paris hotel while a new Paris home is being prepared for them.

The Duke of Gloucester, the ex-king's second younger brother, and his wife are returning from an east African hunting trip. They will fly from Marseille to Paris on November 11, an informed source said, and break their journey in the French capital.

"It is probable that they will make this visit the occasion of a meeting with the duke and duchess of Windsor," this informant said.

If the meeting occurs it will be the first between the former king and any member of his family since his sister, the Princess Royal, and her husband, the Earl of Harewood, visited him at Vienna, February 7, 1937.

That was nearly two months after his abdication and four months before his marriage at Monte Carlo, France, to the former Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Word of the possible meeting in Paris led to speculation in London as to whether it might be a prelude to the Windsor's return to England.

GERMAN SHOT IN PARIS EMBASSY BY POLISH JEW

Paris, Nov. 7 (AP).—The secretary of the German legation, Ernst Vom Rath, was wounded today by two pistol shots fired in the German embassy by a youth whom the embassy spokesman described as a Polish Jew.

The embassy spokesman said the youth who fired the shot declared he "wanted to avenge his Polish brethren." (Germany last week sent back to Poland several thousand resident Jews, fearing new Polish passport regulations might deprive them of citizenship and leave them in Germany as German charges.)

The youth entered the embassy at 9:35. He was taken to the office of Vom Rath, who is attached to German legation service as well as to the embassy.

Two pistol shots rang out, and other attaches came on the run.

Both shots struck Vom Rath and wounded him gravely. He was taken to a nearby hospital.

Embassy authorities held the youth until French police arrived. The spokesman identified the assailant as Herschel Grynszpan, 17, a former resident of Hanover, Germany.

The embassy spokesman charged that the youth was "excited by Jews in France" and indicated his belief the shooting was inspired by the recent mass expulsion of Polish Jews from Germany.

The embassy said the youth first made a short speech to the secretary telling him he had come to avenge his countrymen.

MORE TERRITORY BEING SOUGHT

(By the Associated Press)

Hungary, excited by military occupation of about 4,875 square miles of Czechoslovakia, raised a clamor today for further territorial expansion while Japan paved the way for new exploitation of conquered areas of China.

Enthusiasm surged in Budapest as leaders told the Hungarian nation that recovery of territory from Czechoslovakia was "only partial justice."

P.W.A. AGREES TO ACCEPT PLAN FOR PA. SCHOOLS

Harrisburg, Nov. 7 (AP).—P.W.A. authorities have agreed tentatively to accept the general state authority's plan of financing its share in the $93,000,000 school building program through sale of bonds to a financial syndicate, Col. Augustine S. Janeway, executive director of the authority, said today.

Janeway returned from a week-end conference in Washington, where he presented a letter to federal authorities from a group of bankers in New York and Philadelphia, proposing to purchase up to $55,000,000 of the school bonds.

"The P.W.A. authorities agreed that the letter was satisfactory as a preliminary basis," Janeway asserted. "They told us we would have to have a definite offer, however."

He said he expected the final legal offer for the bond purchase today.

He said the Reconstruction Finance corporation now has under consideration another proposal to purchase up to $31,000,000 in authority bonds to finance its 55 per cent contribution to the proposed $56,000,000 supplementary state institutional program.

All projects, however, under both building plans, are contingent on P.W.A. approval. The projects were submitted to the P.W.A. by October 1, asking for 45 per cent direct grant from that government agency, and have remained in Washington since.

Janeway said he expected approval of those projects the P.W.A. decides to accept to be forthcoming at any time.

Flowers Bloom, Geese Fly North In Tricky Autumn

probably would send the temperatures zooming downward Tuesday.

Abnormal high temperatures for the season prevailed throughout most of Pennsylvania Sunday. In Pittsburgh, old-timers estimated it was the hottest November 6 in about half a century. It was 70 at Harrisburg, more than 20 degrees above normal for the date. Philadelphia had 73, two degrees under the all-time high for November 6, established in 1888.

Dandelion plants, which many call the pest of early spring months, are flourishing in large quantities in Williamsport. Paul Young, of Reading, has roses blooming profusely in his yard. Similar conditions exist in many other towns and cities.

Colonel Nicholas Biddle, head of the state game commission, says the warm weather has caused one of the thickest growths of underbrush in field and woods in years.

"The underbrush is so thick in good hunting areas that it is difficult to get a pheasant," he said.

Farmers are both winning and losing by the warm weather, says C. L. Goodling, of the national farm school at Doylestown. Apples have been harvested earlier and sold at lower prices. But wheat and barley, planted late because of the September rains, are growing rapidly. Goodling said.

Denver, Nov. 7 (AP).—A wintry arsenal of low temperatures, snow, sleet and cold was turned today on a region extending from Missouri and Kansas southwest to New Mexico and the Oklahoma panhandle, with the brunt of the attack thrust at the Rocky mountain region.

A heavy blanket of snow crippled transportation in northern New Mexico and marooned 35 motorists and bus passengers for several hours last night near Capulin.

9 FLIERS BREAK NON-STOP MARK

Port Darwin, Australia, Nov. 7 (AP).—Nine young British airmen captured the world's non-stop distance record for the Royal Air Force today after a flight across Indian jungles and southern seas from Ismailia, Egypt.

Two of the three Vickers Wellesley bombers in which they flew roared into port Darwin shortly after noon, having covered approximately 7,100 miles in a few minutes over 48 hours for an average speed of 149 miles an hour.

The third landed at Kupang, Timor island, Dutch East Indies, about 6,600 miles from Ismailia, due to a fuel shortage. It refueled and took off immediately for Port Darwin, landing here at 5:10 p. m. (2:40 a. m. E.S.T.).

All three eclipsed the previous record set by Soviet fliers who flew 6,306 miles from Moscow to San Jacinto, California, by way of the North Pole in July, 1937. And the Soviet flight took longer—82 hours and 17 minutes.

It was estimated the flight cost more than $1,000,000.

The fliers took turns piloting and sleeping, while an automatic pilot aided in guiding the single-engine planes.

PASTOR POINTS TO "DECISION" ALL MUST MAKE

"An Eternal Decision" was the theme of the sermon delivered Sunday morning by the Rev. Spencer W. Augst, pastor of St. James Lutheran church. The text was taken from St. Luke 19:9, "This day is salvation come to this house."

A brief outline of the sermon follows:

"The statement by Jesus in the text was made concerning the home of Zacchaeus, a man who was despised by all the people because he over-charged them in his tax-gathering and was looked upon as a sinner because he did not observe the Sabbath. This man, if anyone would have been able to suspect that salvation would come to someone that day, would have been the last person to be considered. This all came about because Zacchaeus had made a decision. He had overcome his smallness of stature by climbing a tree and placing himself where he could see Jesus and, little did he imagine, where Jesus could see him. Then when Jesus spoke to him and asked him to come down and take His to his house, 'he made haste, and came down, and received Him joyfully.'

"While in the presence of Jesus, Zacchaeus made a decision to let Jesus have full control of his life. It was not a decision that affected his life for that moment only, but one that would have its influence on all his life as long as he lived and determine the destiny of his soul. Therefore, Jesus could say 'This day is salvation come to this house.'

Salvation Rests on Decisions

"As we seek to find the source of salvation it is not in a decision? All salvation depends on decision. For, first, God decided to send His Son. He saw our real state, that we were lost and had no means of salvation. He knew that we needed a Saviour and He sent His Son. Salvation first of all is an act of God. 'God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son.'

"Our salvation depended also on the decision of Jesus Christ. He willingly obeyed His Father's command to come to the world and He completely fulfilled His Father's will. He said to Zacchaeus and the others who heard Him, 'The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.' He said that he would give His life a ransom for many. Therefore, we see Him in order to do His Father's will, in order to bring Salvation to all mankind, accepting the cross and all its pain and suffering and giving Himself so that we may live eternally.

Our Part in Decisions

"But our salvation is not complete through the decisions of the Father and the Son. You and I must decide to let Christ save us. Whoever you are may I remind you that Christ wants to save every soul! However, only those souls which are given to Him can He save. This is an eternal decision. It reaches far into the future when the 'things of the world will have such small, if any, value. And yet, we may keep these things of little value eternally and refuse that which will be of greatest blessing. If you have not given your heart to the Saviour, let salvation come to your house today.

"Those whose lives have been given in whole or in part to Christ the Lord, must let Christ keep on saving them. There are so many lost properties that we once loved, and considered blessings that I believe Jesus had in mind when He said that He 'came to seek and to save that which was lost.' Among these could be included our early ideals such as our belief in God, the necessity of regular attendance at the worship services, the practicing of Christian principles when in social and industrial groups as well as in the individual lives, the following today of the original purposes of those who founded our government. Then there are those Christians who live on what they have done in the past. They have lost their enthusiasm. They could be called retired Christians.

"Our enthusiasm does not end at a particular time of our life. If it has been lost, Christ has come to restore it to us. Then there is that lost hope, that great desire that is yet unsatisfied, that hope that because of an effort to live a Christian life other blessings would follow. But hardship, sickness and death have come perhaps even more frequently and seriously than to those who have not considered God's laws. How we do need one who will save us from our lost hope. The radiance of Christian joy should remain with all those who are His. There is nothing that the world can do that should make us lose these properties. Yet there are those who have become sour towards the world, the church and even themselves. The radiance is gone, the rejoicing of a Christian heart is no more. Jesus, I am sure is saying to you 'I have come to save your lost Christian joy.'

"You must make the eternal decision. God the Father and His Son have made their in your behalf. What a wonderful Saviour is Jesus our Lord!"

Carnegie Tech students carted off a goal post from Pitt stadium early today, then trooped to the Carnegie campus for a belated celebration of Saturday's 20-10 upset victory over the Panthers football team.

In front of Scobel hall, a dormitory where many of the football heroes live, 200 collegians knocked out windows, suspended a straw-filled figure from the goal post and burned it in effigy.

Bullets Down W. and J. 6-0 On Hamilton's 36-Yard Run

Playing under conditions more suitable for water polo than football, the Gettysburg college football team splashed its way to a 6-0 victory over Washington and Jefferson here Saturday afternoon before approximately 1,000 rain-soaked fans.

Heavy showers which began shortly before noon and which continued throughout the better part of the game transformed the field into a veritable sea of mud and water. Despite the unfavorable playing conditions some nice football was exhibited by both squads.

"Baldy" Hamilton's 36-yard gallop in the second period for a touchdown produced the only score of the day as both teams frequently kicked on the first or second downs to play safe and wait for a break.

The Bullets kept the Presidents deep in their own territory throughout the entire first period due to the brilliant coffin-corner punting of Hamilton. Punt by the Bullet half-back were either downed or went out of bounds successively on the four, three, six and three-yard stripes. Biss, who handled the kicking for the Red and Black outfit, also turned in some nice booting and on each occasion kicked out of danger.

An exchange of punts early in the second period with Hamilton kicking out on the opponent's 7-yard line paved the way for the Bullets' touchdown. Biss returned the kick which was returned to the visitors' 36-yard stripe by Yunaska. At this spot Hamilton broke through right tackle and slushed his way downfield for the score without a hand being laid upon him due to some nice blocking on the part of Bucklen. O'Neill was sent in to try for the point on a placement kick but the slippery ball bobbled around on the ground and O'Neill picked it up and fired a pass intended for Hamilton but it was grounded.

W. and J. made its best bid for a score in the late minutes of the second period. Hamilton's punt was blocked but was recovered by Hamilton on his own 4-yard line. On the next kick Hunkeler returned the boot to Gettysburg's 14-yard line. Rosso made four yards at left end. Meals lost two yards at left tackle. Meals picked up four yards through the line but Biss failed on the next plunge and the Bullets took the ball on the 6-yard stripe.

Near the middle of the third period the Presidents made their second bid for a score. A 20-yard gallop around left end by Biss behind pretty interference moved the piskins to the Bullets' 31-yard line. Three more plays carried the ball to the 20-yard line. The rally was halted when Chester recovered a fumble on the 20-yard line. Hamilton immediately dropped back for a kick and got off a long boot that carried 80 yards in the air despite the conditions. However, on the play Gettysburg was detected holding and the ball called back and a penalty inflicted. Hunkeler returned Hamilton's next boot to Gettysburg's 43-yard line.

The last period resolved itself into a punting duel between Hamilton and Biss, the Bullets seeking to play safe with their 6-0 lead while the Presidents were playing for a break. O'Neill recovered two fumbles late in the period, one on the enemy's 32-yard line and the other on the 17-yard mark, but the Bullets could not capitalize on the breaks. After the last recovered fumble Bucklen made a first down on the 6-yard stripe. The Bullets received a five-yard penalty for too many timeouts and the game ended a few seconds later.

W. and J. made seven first downs while the Bullets made three. Only four passes were tried all afternoon, one by the Bullets and three by the Presidents, and all were grounded.

Hamilton, Chester, A. Bender, Bucklen and Utz played nice games for the Bullets while Biss and Watson played well for W. and J.

HERSHEY WINS 22-0 DECISION FROM MAROONS

Gettysburg high school's football team lost its third game of the current campaign Saturday afternoon by dropping a 22-0 decision to Hershey high on the latter's field in a Southern Pennsylvania interscholastic league game.

Two blocked punts led to the first pair of touchdowns by Hershey who kept the play confined mostly to Maroon territory throughout the afternoon.

Despite the poor playing conditions occasioned by heavy showers a crowd of 2,000 fans witnessed the game.

Hershey tallied in the first period. A blocked punt gave the home club the ball on the Maroons' 1-yard line from where Gherardini plunged over. Gherardini scored the extra point on a drive through left tackle.

Due to the heavy playing conditions the second and third periods found little offered in the way of scoring drives. Short line plunges and frequent punting featured the two periods.

A pair of touchdowns and a safety in the last quarter definitely sewed up the contest for Hershey. The first touchdown came when Speicher blocked Wright's punt on Gettysburg's 10-yard line. Gherardini made his second touchdown of the afternoon when he broke through the line for the necessary yardage for a touchdown. A pass, Gherardini to Black, was good for the extra point.

A few minutes later Wright, attempting to punt from behind his own goal line, fumbled and was tackled by Levons to give Hershey a safety.

The final score of the afternoon came a few plays later when Hershey returned the kickoff to Gettysburg's 40-yard line. Gherardini passed to Black on the 25-yard line and the latter raced the remaining distance for a score. The try for the extra point failed.

Dartmouth and Georgetown Are Unbeaten in East

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Coming up to the middle of November with some of the nation's mightiest football teams just getting up off the ground after having been straightened by last Saturday's opponents, this week finds less than a dozen teams of major rank still unbeaten and untied.

With the fall of such notable contenders as Pittsburgh and California, victims of Carnegie Tech and Southern California, respectively, the search for national championship contenders now must include the teams that have been tied or beaten once but have kept right on moving.

Without any effort to rank them, other than to point out that some obviously don't play the kind of schedules that make champions, the unbeaten, untied outfits are:

East—Dartmouth and Georgetown; mid-west—Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Iowa State and Western Reserve; south—Tennessee and Duke; southwest—Texas Christian and Texas Tech, and far west—Santa Clara.

Unbeaten but tied are Villanova, Boston college and Utah (tied twice). Losers of one game which still rank as top-flight contenders include Pitt, Holy Cross, Carnegie, Fordham (tied), Cornell, Minnesota, Michigan, Northwestern (tied), Alabama, Vanderbilt, Georgia, Baylor (tied), California and Southern California.

Sports Roundup

By SID FEDER
(Pinch-hitting for Eddie Briezt)

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Around and about you hear that the smart money cleaned up on Carnegie—and at juicy odds, too. Well all you can say is Doc Sutherland certainly taught Bill Kern not wisely but too well when he was giving the Skibo boss his grid lessons years ago. Or is it that the Pitt Panther is just like any other pussy cat when Moise Goldberg isn't in the backfield? Looks like the Giants are going to bid heavy to keep the Yanks from landing Freddy Hutchinson, the Pacific coast pitching ace, from Seattle. Can anyone whisper in this corner's good ear just what college will get Bobby Cifers, the Kingsport (Tennessee) high flash? Reports are beginning to fly already. (Just imagine he and Bill De Correvont in the same backfield!!!)

Well, did the boys really get the foot back in football, Saturday—or did they? Fordham, Manhattan, Yama, Rice, Southern Methodist, Utah State, Washington and New Hampshire all won on field goals. To say nothing of more than a dozen others decided on the extra point. And while they were about it, the lads mowed down old man jinx for real. Rutgers over Princeton, first time in 69 years; Wisconsin over Cornell, first time in 69 years; Wisconsin over Cornell, first time in 69 years; Wisconsin over Cornell, first time in 69 years.

consin walloped Northwestern for the first time in 17 years; Syracuse socked Colgate, first time since '24, and Carnegie hadn't knocked off Pitt since 1928. While Sutherland's sons hadn't dropped a decision in 22 straight starts. Sorta looks like Notre Dame, Texas Christian, Tennessee, Santa Clara and Dartmouth for the "Mr. Big" spot now, doesn't it? But we'd still take Pitt, even if they played Carnegie again tomorrow. And don't forget those Southern Californians, who may have saved Howie Jones' job by belting California.

Babe Ruth is positively daffy over Jai Alai. He'll have to be if he lands that Browns' job. Erie (Pa.) Strong Vincent gets that Thanksgiving day game with Watertown New York high. Latest eastern pitching sensation is Nick Basca, Villanova soph, who only tossed nine out of 20 complete for 249 yards.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

On Tuesday a large and beautiful flag was raised on the summit of Round Top, where it now floats in the breeze in honor of the great victory achieved in July.

The removal of the dead into the Soldiers' National cemetery is now in progress. Several hundred have already been transferred to their new resting place.

The Massachusetts dead are being removed by Solomon Powers, the Boston committee having made a special contract with him for the work.

Married.—On the 22nd ult., by the Rev. Jacob Ziegler, Abraham Kunkle, of Cumberland county, to Miss Sophia E. Hersh, of Straban township, Adams county.

On the 22d ult., by the Rev. W. K.
Zieber, Henry J. Myers, Esq., of New Chester, Adams county to Miss Belinda M. Slagle, of Hanover.

On the 25th ult., by the same,
Joseph Spangler, to Miss Sarah Ann Neidich, both of Adams county.

Union League.—The Union League of this place has reorganized and has rented Sheads and Buehler's large hall for the permanent and exclusive use of the league. It is to be neatly fitted up as a reading room aid for meetings of the league.

There will be a meeting of the league every Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Died.—On the 24th ult., in Franklin township, Martin Deale, aged 30 years.

On Sunday, in this borough, Mrs.
Mary Thompson, relict of Capt William Thompson, in her 73d year.

On Sunday, in this borough, Mrs.
Julia Ann Remmel, wife of Jacob Remmel, aged 41 years, 11 months and 27 days.

On the 26th ult., John Mathias,

only son of William and Lydia Culp, aged 3 years.

We witnessed an exceedingly interesting and pleasant affair on Tuesday afternoon, which was the unfurling of the "glorious old Stars and Stripes" from the summit of
"Round Top."

The flag which is a large and very beautiful one, was gotten up by a very patriotic friend of Montgomery county, through the estimable Mr.
Holstein and lady of the General hospital.

At the appointed hour quite a large audience, in which the ladies were well represented, had succeeded in clambering up the steep and rugged sides of Round Top, to witness and participate in the ceremonies.

At 2 1/2 o'clock, the flag was hoisted upon a flag staff, 80 feet high, amid the cheers of the crowd, and the booming of cannon, placed upon the neighboring famous height,
"Stony Point."

Doctor May, of Camp Letterman, then delivered a most patriotic, eloquent and pathetic address. D.
Wills, Esq., of this place then made a few appropriate remarks, followed by John F. Seymour, Esq., of New York, in a short but highly eloquent speech.

The ceremonies were closed by the singing of several patriotic airs by some of the ladies and gentlemen present, with fine effect in that wild rugged place.

The audience then gradually dispersed, well pleased with the exercises of the afternoon, leaving "that dear old flag" to keep watch over those quiet shades, so recently the scene of such terrible carnage and so gallantly defended by our brave boys, many of whom there "sleep their silent sleep."

Jay Cook, Esq., agent for the United States Five-Twenty loan, reports sales during the last week averaging about two million of dollars per day. This heavy investment in National bonds proves more certainly than anything else that the intelligent and substantial men of the country trust the government, and have full confidence in its ability to put down the rebellion and restore the integrity and peace of the Union.

Miss Kate Chase, daughter of the United States Secretary of the Treasury, will be married to Hon.
William Sprague, Rhode Island
United States Senator, on the 12th of November.

THE BONFIRES

THERE was a great deal of whispering around Puddle Muddle.
The little gnome-like man Willy Nilly was as excited as he could be.
"You mustn't forget," he whispered to Rip, the dog, "that now is the time when we have all our birthday celebrations."

"The ducks have gone down to their pond and are busy there and have forgotten about their birthdays."

"Shall I call them?" barked Rip.
"Please do," said Willy Nilly.
"Mrs. Quacko, Mr. Quacko, Quackles, Yellow Beak and all the other ducks," barked Rip, "Willy Nilly is expecting you to come to his house this evening as the sun goes down."

"Dear me," quacked Mrs. Quacko with her wings all of a flutter,
"what is happening now?"
"Nothing is happening now," barkingly answered Rip. "But no one ever knows when something is going to happen."

"That's so," quackingly agreed the ducks.

As a red sun was slowly sinking in the west back of Puddle Muddle, Mr. and Mrs. Quacko and the other ducks waddled up toward Willy Nilly's house.

And no sooner had they spoken to Willy Nilly than all the piles of leaves were ablaze with color and fire.

"You came at just the right moment," said Willy Nilly. "The lighted bonfires are in your honor.
We're celebrating the birthdays of all the ducks."

And the ducks quacked with joy as they received presents of grain and knew that the great autumn bonfires were for their celebration.

RACED TO ARREST

Allentown, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—
Robert A. E. Callahan, of Chicago, Illinois, told Magistrate C. F. Sycher he "thought somebody wanted to race" when he heard an automobile horn sounded behind him, so he "stepped on the gas." He discovered his error, he said, when his pursuer overtook him doing 75 miles an hour. They were state police.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

FAITH

THE greatest fallacy ever uttered is the one in the statement that "might makes right." It does nothing of the sort. I like that definition in the Bible: "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." It's faith that makes right—that brings right about.

The greatness of Lincoln rested more in his faith in the people than in anything else. "Thy faith has made thee whole," said mankind's Healer.
Faith alone in the great democratic principles of government will keep it green and as an everlasting inspiration to the people who live under it.

We all live by faith. Once lost to us, we are lost and wander without purpose or guidance. Another's faith in us strengthens our own faith in ourselves. Great institutions live only so long as people have faith in them.

A leader is followed only so long as his followers have faith in him.
And when a leader loses faith in his objective he is no longer worthy of leadership.

Great characters are men and women of large faith. The pioneers had faith. Faith is behind every worthy attempt in life. An aureate splendor radiates from the mind and heart of the one of great faith.

When in doubt, have faith. When confused, have faith. When faced with failure, have faith. When all seems lost, have faith! Faith is "the evidence of things not seen"—things possible just so long as you have faith. Faith lifts the spirit. It is the one living hope of the world.
Faith in one's self, faith in one's fellow man, and faith in one Supreme Being, or Intelligence, watching over the affairs of puzzled people.

Faith makes right possible, because faith is right. The earliest bloom of the child consciousness is its faith. It trusts. It doesn't even question.
Faith may not be able to move a mountain—but it can climb one! You can—if you have it.

The Army Post Murders

By Virginia Hanson

The Characters

Katherine Cornish, myself, visiting Elizabeth on a mid-western Army post.
Elizabeth, the colonel's daughter.

Yesterday: Elizabeth gives me a costume to wear to the announcement party of Anne Care-we and Barney Nelson.

Chapter Three

'The Army Is Difficult'

THE polo field was at the opposite end of the parade ground, and, as there were no stands, people drove their cars right onto the field. We were late and the game had already begun but Anne Care-we was even later. She ran down the steps of her father's quarters and crossed the graveled road to where we were standing by the car.
She was frowning over a minute wound in one finger as she joined us.

"A needle jabbed me" she announced in her sweet high child's voice. "Oh, hello Elizabeth. Hello, Katherine. I hate to sew, and it bled on my costume, so I dumped the whole thing in Mother's lap and departed. She's fixing Barney's, too
—we're dressing just alike."

"Is he going in fancy dress?" Elizabeth looked surprised. "The men mostly won't," she explained to me.

"Oh, Barney's different—our costumes were his idea. What are you going to wear?"

I let Elizabeth answer while I looked about me.

The game was ragged. The players milled around, taking an occasional lusty crack at some pony's shin, but nothing much was happening to the ball. I did not recognize Charlie among the spectators.

Someone was waving from an upstairs window across the street.

"Isn't that Annie?" I asked without thinking.

Elizabeth returned the salute.
Anne flushed and walked away.

Elizabeth sighed and followed her with her eyes. "The Army's very difficult in some ways."

"What did I say? And why is Annie at the Carewes' quarters?"

"She's often there. You see, Major Carewe and Annie's husband were both sergeants in the regiment when war broke out. Annie and Mrs.
Carewe were bosom friends. They lived next door to each other, had their babies at the same time, named them for each other—"

"What a situation!"

"I'm Fond Of Her"

"I'm afraid Anne minds," Elizabeth said simply.

"When the Carewes rejoined the regiment this spring the two women took up their friendship again. You see, Mrs. Carewe doesn't go out at all—she's an invalid. At least that's the reason they give. Annie says there's nothing wrong with her except she's scared to death of people
—the wrong fork, that kind of thing.
A pity isn't it? Annie tries to talk her out of it."

"Annie would do it much better, wouldn't she? I mean, be Mrs. Major?"

"I believe so. She would have been, too, if her husband had lived. He was a good sergeant, Father says. That's another angle to the situation, as you call it. Here's Annie working in the commanding officer's kitchen while her old friend is a major's wife."

"What happened to her baby—the one that was named for Mrs.
Carewe?"

"She lost it. She won't talk about it. I don't even know where the poor little thing is buried. You see, we were all scattered—the regiment was overseas and Mother had taken me home to Massachusetts—I wasn't very old then, myself."

"You didn't see Annie again until after the war?"

"Not until Mother died. I was about six then, and Father heard about her through the service welfare organization and sent for her.
She took complete charge of me and has never wanted to leave us. I

REDS, 21 TODAY,
EXPECT FASCIST
ATTACK IN 1941

Moscow, Nov. 7 (AP)—One million persons marched past Joseph Stalin today in a huge parade through Moscow's Red Square celebrating the twenty-first anniversary of the Bolsheviki revolution. Soviet Russia's "coming of age."

Stalin, Russia's undisputed leader as secretary-general of the communist party, stood on top of the tomb of Nikolai Lenin, leader and saint of the revolution, for the review.

The Soviet Union's armed might was displayed. Tens of thousands of picked troops and hundreds of light and heavy tanks—some of which raced across the square at 40 miles an hour—and hundreds of warplanes took part.

The only speech was that of Klementi Voroshiloff, war commis-sar, who emphasized that Russia was prepared to meet force with force.

Before the parade another high communist party official predicted conflict with Germany late in 1941 unless workers of the world unite against fascism.

George Dimitroff, secretary general of the Communist International, made the prediction in an article in the anniversary edition of the communist newspaper Pravda.

Vyacheslav Molotov, chairman of the people's commissars, in similar vein declared in an address the "second world war" already had begun, undeclared, and was being fought from Gibraltar to Shanghai.

Foreign circles here considered the Dimitroff article an answer to the Munich conference of the premiers of Italy, Germany, Britain and France who agreed to the partition of Czechoslovakia, Russian ally.

"The reactionary English and French bourgeoisie," he said, had given Chancellor Hitler of Germany an extraordinary, strategic position.
Unless world workers got busy he asserted, Germany was in position to attack Hungary next spring, then Poland, Yugoslavia, Rumania, Bulgaria, France, Belgium Holland, Denmark and Switzerland to prepare for a final smash toward the Soviet Union "in the autumn of 1941."

Legislators Not Told When To Start Work

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—In America's biennial campaign for congressional jobs, just about everything is arraigned except the important feature of telling the winners where and when to report for work.

Imagine getting a new job that yields:

$10,000 a year.
A Washington address for two years of you're a representative, and six if you're a senator.

A high-sounding title.

Reduced rates for the Army-Navy football game.

And—nobody going to the trouble to tell you when to show up for duty.

Democratic Chairman James A. Farley telephones, telegraphs, or sends a letter of congratulations to his party's successful candidates, but nary a note about when the starting whistle blows.

Republican Chairman John D. Hamilton also rushes out the bouquets, but he doesn't even hint that work begins early in January in Washington.

Somehow the successful candidate—if he hasn't been here before—finds his way to the capital.

However: Nobody sends him a road map if he comes by auto.

Nobody sends him traveling money if he comes by train, boat or plane. (Later, however, he can collect 20 cents a mile.)

No official meets him. Nobody shows him to his new office.

It does seem as if somebody ought to send him a note:

"Dear Sir, or Madam: Kindly report for your new assignment January 3, at the capitol of the United States in Washington, D. C., not later than noon."

Strictly speaking, even such a letter might leave a new congressman in a fuddle, because the capitol, of all places, does not have a street address.

Tells Procedure For Cashing of Government Checks

The secret service division of the United States Treasury department has issued a warning to business places concerning the cashing of checks issued by the government. The instructions as sent out by William A. Landvoigt, supervising agent of the secret service office in Philadelphia, follows:

"The United States Treasury department is now issuing a large number of government checks, and many of these checks will be presented to merchants with the request that they be cashed.

"In co-operation with the Post Office department, the United States secret service warns the public of the importance of requiring absolute identification of the payee."

"Be absolutely certain that the person endorsing the check is its proper owner and is entitled to the money.

"If you do not know the person presenting the check, be sure that whoever identifies him for you endorses the check along with the payee, and that he is financially able to refund to you the money in the event the check was not intended for the person receiving the money.

"Government envelopes, even though bearing the name of the payee, should by no means be accepted as identification.

"Protect yourself by insisting on absolute identification. The government reserves the right to come back on the endorsers at any time—oftentimes long after the transaction has occurred.

"Every W.P.A. employee has an identification card, bearing a number, which number appears after the name of the payee on the check. This identification card also bears the employee's signature, and as a further protection the merchant should require the person presenting the check to reproduce this signature in his presence.

"Do not cash government checks for strangers.

"Social security account number cards should not be accepted by merchants as identification when exhibited by persons who want to have government checks cashed."
